BoarsHead Theater exists to entertain, educate and inspire audiences of all ages throughout Michigan. Founded in 1966, we are the state's oldest continually operating professional theater.

BoarsHead belongs to Theatre Communications Group and operates under an agreement with League of Resident Theatres.

We hire union actors, directors, designers and choreographers.

BoarsHead Theater receives some financial assistance from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Michigan Council for Arts & Cultural Affairs and the City of Lansing.

Participants in BoarsHead Theater's Summer Conservatory Announced

Lansing, Mich.—Voices of 16 young adults will fill the air at BoarsHead Theater in July during the Young People's Musical Theatre Conservatory, a three-week program directed by Janine Novenske-Smith.

Equity actress and adjunct professor at Lansing Community College, Novenske-Smith will provide the students with training in vocal music.

Also supplying expertise are artistic director of Peppermint Creek Theatre Company Chad Bagero, who will provide acting training, and Karyn Perry, of Karyn's Dance Place in Holt, who will provide dance instruction. Other performing arts professionals will supplement the students' education covering a wide-range of performance topics.

At the conclusion of the three weeks there will be two showcase performances open to the public.
